

licenses to navigators.

John A. Johansen, the water tender on the McCulloch who was the sole victim of the accident so far as bodily injury is concerned, is in a serious condition at the San Pedro Hospital. He has a compound fracture of both legs and one lung is penetrated. He was caught in his berth in the crash and rescued only after heroic action of Robert Grar-sow, the ship's carpenter, who risked his own life to save his shipmate.

Clipped By:

annakris

Sun, Feb 11, 2018